PASTOR'S LETTER

REV. WENDY HOLLAND

“Let us hold tightly without wavering to the hope we affirm, for God can be trusted to keep his promise. Let us think of ways to motivate one another to acts of love and good works. And let us not neglect our meeting together, as some people do, but let us encourage one another.”

~~ Hebrews 10:23-25a (NLT)~~

Of course, it wouldn't be as effective if we weren't being pushed out of comfort zones. I want this to be humorous, but I'm serious. This was demonstrated in our after-dinner presentation, led by a couple of pastors from Kansas. They shared how—since the beginning of the year—they've advocated tirelessly for the poor, for racial equality, for healthcare access, for food security, for LGBTQ protections, and all the areas where we see an erosion of human rights and an increase in vulnerability . . . And that they had experienced not one victory. Not one.

But the message was not one of hopelessness. Instead, they shared about building community with those who share the same concerns. Not for the purpose of simply commiserating, but to plan, and educate each other, and build awareness and—yes—to encourage and be encouraged. To be the living reminder of Christlikeness, and to maintain faith that love truly wins, even when it sometimes takes a while.

When you're tempted to lie in bed with a book, or fill your time with busy work instead of gathering with a friend or two (or 200) who gets it, more often than not, choose to step out of your comfort zone. You will be encouraged, and strengthened, and made more effective in this journey of Love.

With so much love and gratitude, and prayers for your peace and well-being,

Dear Plymouth Family,

For someone who does fairly public and socially interactive work, I sometimes find myself surprised by my introvert tendencies.

I love road-tripping alone. My sister never could convince me that group exercise classes are superior to individual workout. And most recently, headed to our UCC SCNC annual meeting—after a drive filled with traffic and smog that even I found tedious—I arrived at the hotel and convention center with only an hour or so to get settled before heading out to a social hour, to be followed by dinner in the hotel ballroom, with a speaker and exercise to follow.

As much as I loved last year's gathering, I was not thrilled about this. I would have been content to hang out in my hotel room and catch up on my workload—or any other myriad of things that didn't require small talk and emotional connection.

Of course, once I entered the social space, I was immediately engaged: with colleagues I don't get to see often enough, with new introductions, and the surprising and edifying directions that our conversations take—because most of us are carrying the same concerns, and seeking wisdom as we try to do our best in caring for our congregations while not burning out (aside, this is not just the pastoral experience).

A WORD FROM OUR DIACONATE

Summer is coming and I know some kids that are anxious for vacation, camp, and free time. It is definitely a great time of the year.

June 8th, we celebrate Pentecost. It is when the Holy Spirit descended upon the apostles and other followers of Christ. Red is the color we use for this day. Get out any red clothing you have and wear it that day.

Thank you to all the men who provided the delicious food on Mother's Day. It was a wonderful spread.

I am so grateful for all the people of our church. I do not know another group of people who chip in and help in every situation. At Pearl's service, so many people helped set up and clean up. Thank you to all that jump in when they see a need.

Once again, we are going to be enjoying a wonderful breakfast and Church in the park August 10th. Breakfast will be at 9:30. Dig out your favorite breakfast recipe or grab some fruit at the store. We always end up with a delicious spread. Put it on your calendar.

In case you were wondering what the Diaconate Board does, here are many of the jobs we take care of. We prepare the elements for communion. Greeters, acolytes, and liturgists are scheduled by Diaconate. We fill the candles with oil, stock the pews with caring cards etc., and manage membership. We make sure the alter cloths are the correct color for the Liturgical calendar. Diaconate members also make sure we have people signed up for fellowship and flowers. We wash the tablecloths. Basically, we do what is needed for Church and fellowship. It is a good board for those of you who like to do tasks that make a difference in worship and coffee time.

If you want to know more about Diaconate Board, let me know.

Now you know why I keep reminding everyone to sign up for flowers and treats. It takes all of us to keep this wonderful church rolling along.

Blessings to you and your family,

Sharon Rowe

MISSION OUTREACH NEWS

The Plymouth Cares meal on May 6th saw 15 people participate. We completely served out for 119 dinners. Susan's mac and cheese hamburger casserole was the popular main dish that was prepared with assistance from Stu (This is the same delicious dish we got to enjoy at fellowship a couple of weeks ago.). Chris again made her popular Green salad with Ranch dressing. John and Linda T. again provided the delicious buttered Hawaiian Sweet Rolls. The dessert was a delicious assortment of cookies made possible by Chuck, while Chuck and Chris placed the over 100 cookies into serving baggies. The awesome PBJ sack lunch crew was Anne J., Mary, Carlie, Britt, John S., Pat and Chris. We received special help to serve the meal at the ECHO Shelter by Diane and her children Hunter and Lila, with other servers being Susan, Stu and John S. The servers again heard many "Thank yous" for a hot, nutritious and delicious meal. As is usual, we did our work in good cheer, wonderful conversation and the rewarding feeling of helping those in need as instruments of God's hands.

MISSION OUTREACH

The amount collected for the One Great Hour Of Sharing (OGHS) special mission offering, was too quickly stated to be $143, which represented only the amount received in March, while additional contributions were received in April that saw the actual donation to be $793. So, I'm happy to share that we collected much more to help the UCC "Be the Light" to provide relief to those in need around the world.

The Box for Donations for the Unhoused received four sweaters and a set of bed clothes. These were delivered to the ECHO shelter on May 6th for their shelter residents. Thank you for the contributions, which help to fill this important need for the unhoused.

Strengthen the Church special mission offering June 8: This annual offering supports youth ministries and full-time leaders for new churches in parts of the country where the UCC does not have a strong presence. It also supports existing churches' new initiatives. It is usually received on Pentecost Sunday. In a departure from past years, Plymouth Church will not hold back 50% of the donations to support the financial needs of Plymouth Church as there are avenues through the UCC to assist us with our financial concerns.

The Board of the Mission-Outreach Team is again down to four voting members, with the passing of our beloved Pearl Munak. We would dearly like our number to be at least five, which would provide an additional member's ideas and energy for our calling, and to make us an official board according to our church constitution. If learning about our activities and purpose tugs on your heart, please consider joining us or just learning more about us at our monthly meetings after service on the third Sunday, or by asking Wendy, John, Chris, Sally or Pat.
